EWR became the fastest growing airport in April as it served 3.1 million passengers and contributed the most to the region's travel. The growth originated only from domestic markets as it grew 13.2% following 11.3% seat capacity expansion. With merger-related transitional disruptions mostly resolved, United led the growth, contributing 90% of the incremental domestic gain. The top five domestic destinations were Atlanta, Dallas, Detroit, Miami and West Palm Beach. International travel contracted 0.7% due to seat capacity attrition to London by British Airways and Virgin Atlantic. Cargo sector showed the strongest performance with a 6.4% increase and incremental growth larger than JFK's.
