Notes1: The section entitled Air Transport Association Carriers is included to give a comparison between Port Authority Airport traffic growth and aggregate growth as measured by the majority of the U.S. carrier industry.

Note2: The page 2 Access Mode: residents report excludes passengers arriving by hotel courtesy vehicles, helicopters, and the miscellaneous "other" category. The airline OAG summary uses schedules effective for the week in the middle of the month being summarized. "Flights (daily)" refers to the daily-each-way average flights which can be thought of as 1 directional departing or arriving flights.

Passenger traffic at our airports fell 2.5%, the first decline in excess of one percent since October 2012. Domestic traffic declined 3.4% and international fell 0.9%. The most significant reason for the decline was the Easter holiday appearing in March this year as opposed to April last year. Traffic growth in each of the first four months was exaggerated by distortions including severe weather, leap year and Easter, making it difficult to discern a clear trend. Nevertheless, YTD April traffic is up 1.7% and May traffic (which has no distortions) will provide a clearer picture of the underlying strength of the region's traffic growth. Cargo has been weak since the beginning of the year and continued downward trend this month declining 3.4%.
