SOLICITATION #: 6000000286

TITLE: Rail Car Passenger Counting and Density Reporting System

DESCRIPTION: In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, PATH, as a public transportation agency, is reaching out to the marketplace for various solutions that help inspire rider confidence and provide timely, targeted and actionable information to our patrons.

One of the technologies PATH is exploring is a Car Density Calculation and Reporting solution, which would aid passengers in their efforts to social distance while riding PATH. We are seeking information on solutions that gather rail car occupancy information, aggregate it and relay it in real time in clear, easy to interpret formats.

This technology, paired with compliance to wearing face masks and conducting frequent system and ventilation cleaning, will subsequently boost consumer confidence in traveling on PATH.
