

Crowning Sections of New One World Trade Center Tower Arrive in NYC

Sections of the crowning spire for One World Trade Center traveled by barge on the Hudson River on Tuesday. The nine huge pieces of steel will eventually top off One World Trade Center, the new structure that will rise a symbolic 1,776 feet, becoming the tallest building in the Western Hemisphere.